

The following points might help guide you to complete your group project's paper.

| No. | Questions to ask | YES | NO |
|-----|---|-----|----|
| 1. | Does the title accurately reflect the content of the paper? | | |
| 2. | Does the abstract adequately reflect the contents? | | |
| 3. | Do the keywords provide adequate index entries for this paper? | | |
| 4. | Does relationship of the problem to previous research is made clear? | | |
| 5. | Is the purpose of the paper clearly stated in the introduction? | | |
| 6. | Does the paper achieve its declared purpose? | | |
| 7. | Does the literature review show gaps in the previous studies that leads to the problem being studied? | | |
| 8. | Do methods or procedures are appropriate to the solution of the problem? | | |
| 9. | Do the figures and tables aid the clarity of the paper? | | |
| 10. | Are the English and syntax of the paper satisfactory? | | |
| 11. | Does the paper contain a good structure and flow? | | |
| 12. | Does the paper develop a logical argument or a theme? | | |
| 13. | Do the conclusions sensibly follow from the work that is reported? | | |
| 14. | Are the references authoritative and representative? | | |